

Five Individuals That Changed History

Choose five individuals you know nothing about or that you know very little about (but would like to know more). Using Google or another search engine you are comfortable with, research these people and complete the charts below.

Even though you may think you have chosen a “perfect” history day topic already, I still want you to research five others. You may end up changing your mind at some point, and I want you to have other ideas ready.
